

In the box

This workflow example shows Cleanfeed running on the same computer as the audio editing software:

- Cleanfeed provides distinct audio feeds from remote talent.
- Each of these streams live into the audio editing software, recorded to their own isolated track.
- Production team monitors progress and gives feedback from a virtual 'gallery'.

The advantages of this configuration is that it is straightforward and requires no additional hardware to integrate remote talent into an existing workflow. This makes it ideal for studio or at-home working.

Cleanfeed Cinema is a versatile tool. Other workflows are possible. Contact us to discuss your requirements.
